- >> Helps students achieve in other academic subjects like math, science and reading.
- >> Helps communities share ideas and values among cultures and generations.
- >> Is a disciplined human endeavor with intrinsic value to society.
- >> U.S. Department of Education data show that students who report consistently high levels of involvement in instrumental music during the middle-and high-school years show significantly higher levels of mathematics proficiency by grade 12. (Catterall, J., Chapleau, R., And Iwanaga, J., "Involvement in the Arts and Human Development," 1999)
- >> The College Entrance Examination Board found that students in music appreciation scored 63 points higher on verbal and 44 points higher on math than students with no arts participation.

MAKE MUSIC!

with String Academy classes from Eugene-Springfield
Youth Orchestras!

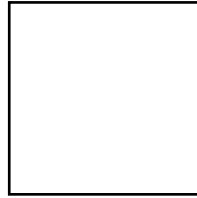

Eugene-Springfield Youth Orchestras is a local non-profit organization celebrating 83 years in our community as the leader in youth orchestral music education. For over 23 years, ESYO has been providing beginning strings classes in 4J elementary schools, called String Academy classes, offering 4th and 5th graders the opportunity to learn to play the violin, viola, cello and bass. These classes not only provide instruction on these instruments, but also music education and enrichment to help educate the whole child.

WHY ESYO?

- >> ESYO employs only the highest-quality teachers that come from impressive musical backgrounds and have advanced music degrees.
- >> ESYO offers instruction progressing from beginning strings classes to our most advanced orchestra, the Eugene-Springfield Youth Symphony.
- >> ESYO believes it is critical that all children who want to should have the opportunity to experience music and playing a musical instrument. ESYO has scholarships available to all eligible families, and we strive to never turn a student away for the inability to pay, keeping our classes and programs accessible to all children.
