UKULELE CAMP INSTRUCTORS

Neal Chin has been teaching the ukulele for fourteen years. While living in Honolulu, Neal co-founded two bands and played with over fifty musicians, including Benny Chong, Dean Taba, David Kamakahi, Noel Okimoto, and Steven Inglis. Neal has credits on many recordings, including the Nā Hōkū Hanohano award-winning album, The Akira Project. He also has writing and playing credits on the self-titled album Broke Aesthetic, and others. Neal is presently part of 'Olekona, a contemporary Hawaiian band.

Joe Aloia is an active music enthusiast with a passion for teaching. He is currently working on his masters degree in jazz studies at the University of Oregon while performing regularly throughout the northwest with groups of many different styles. His specialties are musicality and group performance. Joe has been playing music for 12 years. He plays bass, guitar, and ukulele.

Ukulele Summer Camp is a collaboration with Pacific Winds Music of Eugene. Pacific Winds has generously offered loaner ukulele instruments to those who will need them for the camp! Musicians can make arrangements to pick up their loaned ukulele from Pacific Winds at 791 W. 8th Ave. Pacific Winds has been a relentless supporter of music in the community for more than 25 years. Pat Knaus, owner and head of the Ukulele department, is a former ESYO teacher who was instrumental in forming our summer musical theater camps. For more info, go to pacificwindsmusic.com.

CAMP DESCRIPTION

This summer, ESYO is excited to bring back this popular collaboration with Pacific Winds Music of Eugene! Join ukulele teachers Joe Aloia and Neal Chin for a week of FUN-tastic UKE! We will cover various techniques and essential tips to learning ukulele and playing both solo as well as in a group. For each day of the camp we will cover at least one new song and at the end of the week play a group performance for family and friends. Open to all skill levels, entering 5th grade to 9th grade. Join us!

WHAT IS EUGENE-SPRINGFIELD YOUTH ORCHESTRAS (ESYO)?

ESYO's vision is to inspire and lead students on a journey of discovery through orchestral instruction and performance. We do this by offering the highest-quality instruction progressing from beginning classes to advanced orchestras, offering need-based program and private lesson scholarships, and collaborating with area schools and arts organizations.

ESYO's sequential orchestral program includes five levels of orchestral training designed for students from grade four through the age of twenty-one. For grade-schoolers, ESYO has worked in partnership with area schools to maintain crucial first year classes called String Academies. Students may then continue through String Academy 2, for strings only, and three auditioned ensembles: Little Symphony (strings only), Junior Orchestra and the Eugene-Springfield Youth Symphony (both full symphonic orchestras). Other ESYO classes include summer musical theater, jazz band, ukulele, and rock strings camps. Please visit www.ESYOrchestras.org for more information!

Attendance Policy: Daily attendance is required. The camp experience is cumulative and campers work together towards their performance.

Refund Policy: Full refunds will be granted when the participant is denied participation because of class cancellation or closed enrollment. Since enrollment is limited and expenses continue regardless of individual attendance, we are unable to allow deductions, credits, refunds or, make-up days. ESYO reserves the right to cancel classes for any reason.

Financial Aid: There are a limited number of partial, need-based scholarships available (none greater than 50%). Please request an application when mailing in your registration form.
